

Frances Jones Comer

1850-1950 Centennial Biography

Frances Jane Jones, daughter of Edward Henry, and Alice Jane Perry Jones, was born July 28, 1899, in Lehi, Utah. She was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints at the age of eight years by Charles Munn. When Frances was nine months old her father, who was a fireman on the Union Pacific railroad, was killed at Cedar Fort, Utah leaving her mother with four little girls to raise.

She was educated in the public schools of Lehi. She was a teacher for three years and a chorister for seven years in the Primary Association, and secretary for nine years in the Relief Society of the Lehi Fifth Ward. She was vice-president of the Parent Teachers Association in the Lehi District for two years.

She married James Heber Comer, September 30, 1907. She is the mother of four children: James Harold, Nola May, Francis Edward, and Shirley LaRae.

Francis is a lover of music and has always encouraged her children in getting an education and to study music. She is a member of the choir and of the singing mothers of the Lehi Fifth Ward and a Relief Society teacher.
